Gone To Survey The Iskut River

WILL OPEN A GREAT COUNTRY

D. M. Kean, Provincial Government Superintendent of River Work who was in the city for a few days last week, left Sunday morning for the Iskut River on the gas boat Salmon with a crew of men to survey and map a channel from the mouth at the Stikine to the canyon, some thirty or forty miles, as was stated in last week's issue of the Sentinel.

The men accompanying Engineer Kean were Bert McKay, Dave Lewis and Eddie Lynch. The work is expected to take about three weeks. This means much for this part of the country and it is only a question of time now until this section will be a steady producer and will mean much to Wrangell as all the travel and commerce will come through here.

As the Canadian Government is doing excessive work in the interior and the American Government is starting at this end the next summer will see great strides for this part of the country.

Sam Agee, a colored youth of Dawson, has gone outside to take a three years' course in Broker T. Washington's college at Tuskegee, Alabama. He was one of Dawson's crack hockey players.

Cecil Denny Passes Away

Mr. Charles d'Ernee, better known as Cecil Denny passed away at his residence in the rear of the restaurant at 9:15 this morning.

Mr. d'Ernee, 44 years of age, was born in England coming to this country in the early days and has resided here almost continually ever since.

Deceased has been ailing for some time and has been under the care of Dr. Shurick for the past ten days. He was a charter member of the local Moose lodge which will have charge of his funeral.

Deceased leaves a wife who has the sympathy of the entire community in her sorrow.

City Of Nome Is Laid Waste

The terrible storm that visited Nome and laid that city waste is even worse than was at first reported. Three lives are believed to have been lost. The town of Solomon was completely swept away as not a house was left standing, and twenty bodies were washed from the cemetery at that place.

All the principal cities of Alaska and the Sound are hurrying and wiring aid in money and supplies to the relief of the stricken zone.

Standard Oil Co. Favors Wrangell

TANK SYSTEM TO BE INSTALLED

The Standard Oil Company has passed favorably on Wrangell as a distributing point for their oils and have appointed Mr. Leo McCormack as their local representative.

For the present oils such as gasoline, naphtha, distillate, etc., will be sold in drums and practically at less than wholesale prices. Distillate the most used will be sold at eleven cents per gallon, prices in other oils in proportion.

This means big business for Wrangell as it will bring the entire halibut fleet from the surrounding country to this port for their fuel and supplies and make Wrangell their chief shipping port for their fish. With oil so cheap it means that all the canneries and fishing plants will come here for their oils instead of shipping it from Seattle direct as heretofore.

Mr. McCormack states that the first shipment which will consist of twenty-five thousand gallons of distillate, gasoline and naphtha should arrive and be ready for sale in about three weeks.

The Standard Oil Company in selecting Wrangell as a distributing point have made no mistake and the appointment of Mr. McCormack as their business manager assures the success of their station.

It is the policy of the Standard Oil people to deal direct with the consumer and with this in view they are at the present time erecting in Ketchikan at an expense of more than two hundred thousand dollars, tanks in capacity to supply the ever increasing demand. As soon as condition justifies similar tanks will be constructed at Wrangell.

"Verily Wrangell commeth unto its own."

Goes On A Hunting Trip

C. P. Nendham and J. Church two of the hunters returning from hunting up the Stikine river, having to wait here several days before catching a boat south, concluded to try our hunting so chartered the Amity, Billy Birch, and securing Commodore Jackson as guide left Tuesday morning for Onslow Island at the lower end of Etolin Island for a few days hunting trip.

Water System About Completed

The work on the new water system Cassiar and Church is about completed, the pipes and hydrants being in and the contractors are now working on the sewer which is being installed in the same ditch as the water pipe, the work is expected to be finished shortly.

See Moose At Garnet Ledge

WE WANT A BOUNTY ON WOLVES

A very extraordinary sight was witnessed from the Garnet Ledge last Thursday noon when Wm. Burgart and J. Hegstrom were returning from the ledge to the mens quarters when looking out on the flats they saw a young moose walking out on the flats as unconcerned as though a thousand miles from civilization. The moose was considerable distance but was close enough to be seen very plainly. As the tide was out the moose walked out on the flats considerable distance to the channel and then entered the water and swam for High Island.

This is only another plain proof of what a bounty on wolves will do for the big game, as the Canadian Government has this and since its inauguration the moose and other like game have grown more abundant every year and this is believed to be the reason for the moose coming down closer to salt water the last few years than has ever been known before.

What is the reason Southeastern Alaska can't have the same protection? As the wolves are doing more damage to our deer than all the hunters combined, and with a bounty on these animals enough to make their capture profitable it would mean much to the future of the deer in Southeastern Alaska.

Athletics Win The Pennant

By winning the game at the Polo Grounds in New York last Saturday the Philadelphia Athletics again captured the base ball championship of the world.

In the series five games were played, Philadelphia won the first New York the second and Philadelphia won the next three.

Standard Off On A Long Cruise

The Standard with Ed. Lyons, Claude Blackington, Louis and Walter Larson on board expects to get away today on the long run to Lituya Bay about 70 miles northwest of Cape Spencer where they will trap and prospect for about four months.

Arrested On Assault Charge

Last Friday Marshal Schnabel took into custody a fisherman at the city float on the charge of assault after hitting another man over the head with a bottle. He was taken to Petersburg on the Albino and tried before Commissioner Rivard. He drew a fine of $50 or twenty five days in jail and is serving his time.

A New Front On The Pioneer

The last week has witnessed a big change in one of Wrangell's landmarks the Pioneer Hotel which was built to accommodate the traveling public after the big fire which wiped out the Wrangell Hotel and until another could be built. At the time it was built the streets were not surveyed and when they were it left the Pioneer some ten feet from the side walk which has now been built out and a good imposing front put on which makes an added improvement in the looks of the building and very much needed improvement in the looks of Front Street.

No More Hard Work At Wharf

For several months past the force at the wharf have been so busy that they didn't have time to sleep and it was feared that another accountant would have to be broke in when Manager Leo McCormack struck upon the happy idea of getting it done by machinery so they have installed a fine new up-to-date Baroughs Adding Machine. The machine is just the thing and is the best on the market.

Valdez now has a full-fledged suffragette club.

Karen Returns With Hunters

THE STIKINE RIVER IS VERY LOW

The Karen, Capt. Johansen, returned from up the river last Monday evening with seven passengers three of whom were hunters and the rest men who have spent the past season working in that district.

The hunters, Messrs C. P. Nendham and J. Church, of London, England, and Max Budling of Amsterdam, are all very well satisfied with their trip and state that all the heads and trophies secured by them are of the very best and were far more successful than they had anticipated.

The trip for the Karen has been rather difficult as the river is very low. On the trip up she carried three passengers as far as Glenora from where they walked overland to Telegraph, Mr. Larson of the Hudson Bay Co., and Mr. Ryon, a well known trapper of that country, and a fox buyer traveling in the interests of an eastern company.

An official of the W. P. & Y. railroad who has visited the new camp has returned to Skagway reports that beans are selling for $1. per pound. He saw a miner pay $5. for five cups of the Alaska strawberries and the fellow had to carry them home in a sock as paper bags are unknown there.

'Alaska for Alaskans'

"Alaska for Alaskans" what a pipe dream? And to think that we said at the start of the present administration that at last every office in Alaska was going to be held by Alaskans, and now to have our air bubbles burst with the appointment of a couple of gentlemen from the sunny south to fill the offices made vacant by the forced resignation of Judge Mur- and District Attorney Rodney.

There are several Democrats in Alaska who were able in every way to accept the positions which by right of the fact that the administration had promised to fill the positions with Alaskans should have been tendered them or others able, who are residents here and spending their lives in the up-building of this great Northland of ours and men who know the ways and needs of the land far better than a person from Virginia or Oregon.

And only goes to show as our Petersburg friend states "Alaska for Alaskans does not obtain only in dreams."

ALASKA RAILROADS

It is evidently the intention of congress to give early consideration, at the regular session, to bills providing for the construction of government trunk line railroads in Alaska. The senate already has voted to make the Chamberlain Alaska railroad bill the unfinished business of that body Dec. 8, one week after the session opens, that bill having been favorably reported to the senate several weeks ago, and the house committee on territories has appointed a sub-committee which is now at work taking testimony preliminary to reporting a similar bill to the house, in time to have it considered early in December.

The fact that President Wilson has heartily endorsed the scheme of government trunk lines railroads in Alaska, Secretary of the Interior Lane heartily concurring, will have a tendency to make the Alaska railroad bill privileged matters. The currency bill is now the highest privileged bill before congress, and not even the President will consent to have it sidetracked for the Alaska railroad bill. Once the Alaska railroad bill is reported to the house, and bears the stamp of the President's approval, it will be assured of passage.

There is prospect of considerable talk on the Chamberlain bill in the senate, however, and there the measure providing for government construction of trunk line railroads will meet with determined opposition from a few senators who heartily oppose government building and operating of railways. Some of the most determined opposition will come from democratic senators, but it is believed the bill will pass. It is in no sense a party measure.

Senator Chamberlain gained a decided advantage when he had the bill made the unfinished business, for that gives the bill right-of-way over all other legislation except the currency bill-if that goes over to the next session.

A small room has been set aside as a reading room in the Juneau public school. The school has an excellent library and it has now been placed at the disposal of the reading public.

Subscribers Are Guilty of Felony

The Supreme Court of the United States recently made a ruling which in substance makes the subscriber who takes his paper out of the post office and refuses to pay the subscription, guilty of felony and liable of arrest, as any other who defrauds.

The following is a synopsis of the United States Supreme Court decision regarding delinquent subscriptions and is published as a matter of information for subscribers:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscription.

2. Subscribers ordering the discontinuance of their periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodical from the post office, they are responsible until they settle their bill and order their paper discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and any papers are sent to the former address, subscribers are responsible.

5. Courts have decided that refusing periodicals from the office or moving and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of that time if they do not want to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice with payment is sent to the publisher.

Donald was leaving his native village for parts unknown. Sandy, his friend, invited all the friends and neighbors to his home to give Donald a royal send-off. As is customary at these gatherings, liquid refreshments were served with out stint.

About nine o'clock Sandy noticed Donald going round bidding the guests good-by. "Your no goin' yet, Donald?" he said in surprise.

"Na, I'm no goin' yet," answered Donald, "but I thoet I'd bid'em all good-by while I knew 'em."

Douglas Editor Gets Bouquet

Monday evening friends of the News Man to the number of twenty or more led him to wander from his quiet fireside to the offices of Dr. Sargent, where they had prepared a choice collection of man-nish delicacies. Mayor O'Connor as spokesman presented the surprised printer with a beautiful arm chair, one of Mr. Thomas' finest make. Mr. O'Connor said that the gift was a token of respect and friendship and in honor of our thirty-seventh birthday. Now, who wouldn't be a country printer? —Douglas Island News.

Dawson, Oct. 1—At the point of revolvers two masked men held up Milford Holiday and Fred Bowers, the night watchmen on the Yukon gold company's property on Lovett hill at midnight Monday. The two watchmen were then ragged and bound and then thrown into a ditch where they were found yesterday morning almost dead as the result of the exposure as the night was a very cold one. In the meantime the robbers had cleaned out the hydraulic boxes and it is estimated, secured about twenty thousand dollars in gold dust. Owing to the fact that it was dark at the time of the holdup the two watchmen cannot give a very good description of the robbers. The various mounted police stations have been notified of the robbery and are on the lookout for the robbers who will be unable to get their booty out of the country without detection.

According to a news item published in the Vancouver World of the 17th given out by C. J. Rogers purchasing agent for the White Pass & Yukon Route, that company is preparing to build a railroad up the valley of the White river leading to the Shushanna, and that work on the new line will start as soon as the thaw starts in the spring.

Speaking of agriculture in the Tanana valley, Prof. C. C. Seeger says: "Next to the grains, I regard alfalfa as the most important toward the agriculture success of the Tanana. Alfalfa not only provides food for cattle, but also maintains the fertility of the soil. Turning under a field in which alfalfa has been grown is equivalent to manuring the soil. There is no question that alfalfa will do well in the Tanana Valley."

The gasboat Amity is reported to have had a narrow escape from fire last Saturday evening while anchored in the bay.

Quite a number of hunters spent Sunday on the flats and returned with well filled bags.

A sad accident occurred recently near the mouth of the Kvachuk river, whereby Fred Martini, a well known operator, lost his life. Martini was en route to the outside to get married and was going down the Kvachuk river on the steamer Belliance, which had two barges in tow. In some manner he missed his footing and fell between the two barges. One of the barges passed over the unfortunate man and it is believed he must have been skinned, as he failed to come to the surface. The body has not been recovered although a search has been kept up. Martini had considerable cash on his person as well as exchange on outside banks all of which was lost to his parents who lives in Portland.

"It is a marvelous land, a vast empire bright with great things, and every man on his first visit to Alaska must echo the sentiments of Service in his spell of the Yukon, 'the freshness, the fairness, how am stuck on it all.' This was the statement of George W. Hubbard, general passenger agent of the Millwakee, who had just returned from a tour of southwestern and southeastern Alaska, including a trip over the Copper River & Northwestern line.

NEWS GATHERED FROM NORTHERN EMPIRE

PLANING SOME FALL ROAD WORK

Superintendent J. C. Hayes and foreman William Pendergast of the Alaska road commission will leave Juneau for the west coast of Prince of Wales island the last of the present week. Here it is intended to do some work on the road leading from Sulzer across the portage, a distance of five or six miles, which will materially shorten the mail route to Ketchikan.

From the west coast they will proceed to Wrangell and survey a trail from that point to the Stikine river. This work was in a memorial introduced in the Alaska Legislature by Representative N. J. Svindseth and addressed to Col. Richardson, president of the Alaska road commission.

C. Knudson, a Nome miner, lost his life through the roof of the drift caving on him. The accident happened on the Pay-streak claim on the sub-marine beach line.

Receives Shipment Of Penn. Coal

J. G. Grant is in receipt of a shipment of Pennsylvania Anthracite coal, some of the best coal mined in America, for a heating stove on one of the last boats. The coal is the best that has ever been shipped to Wrangell and although worth much more than the British Columbia coal it is selling like hot cakes and is guaranteed to fill the bill.

A Big Dance Saturday Night

There will be another of those social dances at Red Mens Hall next Saturday night to which you are invited. Professor Benders says the music is going to be the best ever and you are assured a good time.

There is some probability of Ketchikan having a ship railway and ship yard built and in operation within the next couple of months. A deal to put such a plant in at the Alaska Packers dock there is now under consideration and it looks as though it will become a fact.—Ex.

Seattle, Sept. 30—Weary of filing petitions to Congress to which no heed is paid by the national lawmakers, Tom Davies, general manager of the Alaska Central railroad has decided to quit trying to do anything and will leave this city on any early boat to house the rolling stock of the company and stop trying at least until the government shows some intention of giving his road a fair opportunity to do business.

The boiler on the Seward dredge on Solomon river blew up and put the dredge out of commission. No injury was inflicted to anyone, and the dredge was not damaged except for the loss of power to operate it.

The Juneau Ferry and Navigation company will shortly put a 200 passenger boat on the Juneau-Sheep Creek-Douglas run. They are hunting the ports along the coast of California and if they do not find what they want they will build one to suit the trade.
